

Harding Cracks Whip Over Senate Leaders

President Confers With Lawmakers in Effort to Speed Up Work.

WANTS CONGRESS TO REST

Believes Vacation Necessary
But Wants Big Problems
Out of Way.

BULLETIN
Washington.—Congress will recess a week from Saturday for a month's vacation, according to an agreement reached between President Harding and Senators Lodge and Curtis, it was announced Wednesday.

Washington, D. C.—President Harding
Wednesday called leaders of both houses of congress into conference again in the hope of bringing an agreement to end the legislative deadlock and enable congress to take a brief vacation.

Questions giving the president the most trouble are:
1.—The extent to which taxes can be cut.

2.—Agreement on a tariff bill which will satisfy conflicting interests of producers and consumers in all sections of the country.

3.—Enactment of the railroad relief measure before congress takes a recess.

The president returned from his ten day vacation to find these questions in a sadly tangled state due to the inability of leaders to reach an agreement with Secretary of the Treasury Mallon.

The president has found it necessary to crack the White house whip over refractory leaders. He is trying to do this with as much tact as possible but he was unable to iron out the situation in two long conferences
Wednesday and Thursday he called Senators Lodge and Curtis back to the White house in a further effort.

The president is agreeable to a congressional recess but he feels strongly that congress must stick on the job until the railroad relief bill is passed so the government can clean up the millions in railroad claims. The claim of administration officials is that thousands of life men would find work if the railroads were thus aided.

Behind these railroad and tax troubles looms the tariff. Harding and his advisers recall the disaster that befell the Taft administration when it revised the tariff upward and the problem now is to remain true to the cardinal Republican principle of protection without throwing up a trade barrier which would delay the recovery of industrial prosperity.

HOLD MAN FOR SLAYING WOMAN FOUND IN TRUNK

By United Press Leased Wire
Seattle, Wash.—James E. Mahoney will be held in connection with the murder of his wealthy, eccentric bride whose body was found in a trunk, officials announced Wednesday. Mahoney has steadfastly contended he did not murder the woman.

The body of Mrs. Mahoney was found in a trunk at Lake Union after a search since April. Mahoney was held pending the investigation into the mysterious disappearance of his wife.

Mahoney was killed for two days following the discovery of the body.
But officials were unable to obtain any admissions of his knowledge of the murder. He apparently was not worried over the charges.

Mrs. Nora Mahoney, mother of the prisoner and Mrs. Dolores Johnson, his sister were questioned at length
but were not arrested.

PENNSY ROAD IGNORES LABOR BOARD RULINGS

By United Press Leased Wire
Philadelphia, Pa.—A showdown in the dispute between the Pennsylvania railroad and the railroad labor board was scheduled for Wednesday, the final one fixed by the board for a meeting of company officials with union leaders. No call has been issued by the company for such a meeting and no statement has been issued as to what the company's policy will be.

Employment offices of the company have been opened at Altoona, where the Pennsylvania's largest shops are located, and at other points. Officials explained this action was in preparation for handling heavy grain and coal movements.

Union leaders said some time ago that a strike might be looked for if the Pennsylvania does not comply with the decisions of the labor board.

SHIPWRECKED PASSENGERS STILL ON BARREN COAST

By United Press Leased Wire
San Diego, Calif.—The 38 passengers of the wrecked California liner San Jose still were camped on the barren coast of lower California, 350 miles south of San Diego Wednesday, according to wireless reports to naval headquarters here. These reports conflicted directly with earlier advices to the owners of the vessel and the San Francisco chamber of commerce to the effect that the passengers were being brought to San Diego by the U. S. destroyer Farquhar.

The radio report saying the passengers remained on the beach was from the destroyer Farquhar, to the U. S. S. Charleston, flagship of the destroyer fleet.

BIG SURETY COMPANY FORMED IN WISCONSIN

Milwaukee, Wis.—The Northwestern Casualty and Surety company, capitalized at $1,000,000, with $750,- 000 surplus, was organized here Tuesday by some of the leading financiers of Wisconsin.

William A. Fricke, former state insurance commissioner, is president of the new concern with Herman Fehr, president of National Bank of Commerce, chairman of the board of directors.

G. O. P. Agrees To Cut Transportation Taxes

House Leaders Believe They Have Found a Way to Solve Tax Problem—Will Cut U. S.
Expenses Half Billion.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Complete repeal of the present taxes on passenger and freight rates effective January 1, 1922, was decided upon today by Republican members of the house ways and means committee, now framing the revenue revision bill. The action does not affect Pullman or express taxes. Decision also was reached to increase the flat corporation income tax to 15 per cent instead of 12½ as suggested by President Harding at a conference of house leaders yesterday.

The committee Wednesday formally voted for the repeal of the excess profits levy and the reduction of sur-taxes from a maximum of 65 to 32 per cent.

Both changes were made retroactive to January 1, 1921, in response to the wishes of President Harding although the committee previously favored delaying this until January 1, 1922.

A movement is now under way in the committee to reduce the taxes of the 5,000,000 people paying the normal income tax of four per cent.

Representative Bacharach, New Jersey, is insisting that $500 additional exemption be granted these taxpayers, or that the rate be decreased from 4 to 3 per cent. The increased exemption may be granted, it was said.

The committee has not yet reached a decision as to whether the taxes on Pullman fares and express rates shall also be completely repealed. It appears virtually certain, however.

The difficult problem of reducing federal taxes in the face of huge future demands on the treasury appeared solved Wednesday.

A tax bill to yield $3,075,000,000 or $600,000,000 a year less than the present war revenue act was the aim of the house ways and means committee, as the result of the prompt intervention of President Harding in the tax tangle. The president in a two hour conference with house leaders Wednesday night proposed a program, promptly accepted by house leaders.

It was:
Reduce government expenditures by $520,000,000.

Obtain several hundred millions additional revenue through concerted drives to collect back taxes and the sale of larger quantities of war materials.

Repeat the excess profits tax and reduce the high surtaxes to a maximum of 32 per cent as of January 1, 1921.

Repeal the nuisance and luxury levies as of January 1, 1922.

Cut transportation taxes in half on January 1, 1922 and repeal them on January 1, 1923.

Substitute only an increase in the flat corporation income tax from 10 to 12½ or 15 per cent.

ACCUSE LLOYD GEORGE OF 'STRONG ARM' METHODS

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain was charged Wednesday with using "strong arm" tactics in forcing an allied agreement on the partition of upper Silesia.

Typical of comment on the supreme council session yesterday in which the premier swung the gathering to the British view of the situation, was the complaint of "Pertinax" in the Echo de Paris.

"Britain has forced us to accept a downright street settlement of the problem of being abandoned by the entente. That is going rather far."

ANOTHER NOTE ASKS
RANSOM FOR PRIEST

By United Press Leased Wire
San Francisco, Calif.—Another note from men who pose as the kidnappers of the Rev. Father Patrick Heslin, Colma, Calif., priest, missing for more than a week, was made public Wednesday by Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco.

The note demanded $15,000 ransom.
It was left during the night under the door of the archbishop's home.

CANADA'S NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL COMING SOON

By United Press Leased Wire
Quebec, Que.—The Canadian Pacific steamer Empress of France, with Lord Byng, his family and staff on board, was due here Wednesday after a fast voyage across the Atlantic.

Wireless reports from the vessel say that the vice regal party is enjoying the best of health and have recovered fully from the effects of the ocean voyage while sailing in the smooth waters of the St. Lawrence.

SEES CONSPIRACY IN EFFORT TO KEEP EMBARGO ON DYES

Senator King Demands Investigation Into "Chemical Lobby."

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Spurred by the efforts of a powerful lobby to place a dye embargo in the permanent tariff bill, Senator King, Utah, Wednesday announced he would demand that the senate adopt his resolution calling for an investigation.

King was in a fighting mood. He showed letters and telegrams from business organizations in Utah urging a dye embargo. This he declared, was a backfire of the dye lobby to whip him into line.

King declared that:
1.—That more than $1,000,000 had been spent by dye interests in disseminating propaganda and paying lobbyists to maintain an embargo.

2.—That the Pullman Chemical company had entered into a contract with a British concern to divide the world and monopolize the dye trade.

3.—That millions of dollars worth of American dyes have been sold abroad in competition with German dyes and that an embargo is unnecessary.

4.—That the average prices charged for American dyes are 800 per cent above prewar levels.

5.—That one chemical corporation has paid over $20,000,000 in dividends in the last four years and paid for its plant.

Washington.—Senator Truman H.
Newberry, Michigan, is charged with "political immorality" in a minority report filed with the senate elections committee Wednesday by Senator Ashurst, Arizona. The majority report cleared Newberry of the charges that he "bought" his election. The latter report was adopted by a strict party vote of 8 to 4.

"Although the supreme court held that Newberry violated no law, congress in passing the corrupt practices act laid down a rule of political morality," declared Ashurst. "When the expenditures of a candidate go beyond $10,000, the limit set in the act,
he is politically immoral."

Newberry's expenses were twenty times that amount. Correspondence shows that he was in daily touch with the situation and complained about the expenditure, but did not raise a hand to stop it."

Representative Huddleston, Alabama declared today that big interests opposed to the labor policies of Ford because they fear he would raise the standard and cost of labor in the state.

Weeks asserted that Ford would get an absolutely square deal from the government in his negotiations for purchase of the plant.

Guides return to Banff with Dr. Stone's body

By United Press Leased Wire
Banff, Alberta.—Final chapters of Mount Eon's tragedy were being written here Wednesday.

The body of Dr. W. E. Stone, late president of Purdue university, was brought here Tuesday night by guides who rescued it. A few minutes later his widow came up the trail, accompanied by the rest of the party of mountain climbers.

The widow had not decided yet today whether to bury the body here or return it to their home in Lafayette, Ind.

Dr. Stone was just at the peak of Mount Eon, about to realize one of his greatest ambitions, when he fell to his death. Those who recovered his body erected a pile of stones on top to mark his feat.

Chicago Milk Dealers
Facing Investigation

Chicago.—Investigation of affairs of the Milk Producers' Cooperative Marketing company was started Wednesday by Nicholas Michels, assistant state's attorney.

Michels charged the organization with establishment of a milk boycott.
He also charged that farmers get only from 1½ to 3 cents a quart for milk which is retailed in Chicago for 14 cents.

Michels said he was going before a grand jury Friday and ask for indictments.

DRY AGENT ANSWERS
PROTESTS WITH RAID

Sheboygan, Wis.—W. Stanley
Smith, state prohibition commissioner replied to the notice of defiance recently served on him by Sheboygan saloonkeepers, because of his order to remove bars, today by conducting a wholesale raid.

Thirteen saloonkeepers to Sheboygan county have been arrested so far by four state prohibition agents charged with selling moonshine and other arrests are expected before night.

The state dry agents also visited Pond du Lac county and two saloon-keepers were arrested.

END OF BUSINESS DEPRESSION IS IN SIGHT, ARMOUR SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—J. Ogden Armour
Wednesday told the Institute of American Packers that "the going will be less difficult from this point on," for American business.

"We believe firmly that the tide of business has turned," said Armour, reporting for the finance committee of the packers' organization at their annual convention here.

"We are on the same road today that we were a year ago, but with the difference that the end of the road seems to be in sight. At any rate, there are evidences that the worst of it has been traveled."

Fargo, N. D.—Opponents of the Nonpartisan league administration have enough signers to petitions to effect a recall election on high state officers, but they are taking no chances—they want more signers. Theodore Nelson, secretary of the Independent Voters' association, said the petitions would continue in circulation until they have 50,000 signers. With 65,550 signers they already have more than enough to bring about the election.

Gov. Frazier, Attorney General
Lamke and Commissioner Hagen will be ousted if the recall is successful.

Slain Broker Feared Death Several Days Before His Murder

Kennedy's Father Declares Pretty Divorcee Had Begged Son to Marry Her—Will Ask Grand Jury to Indict Burch.

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif.—John Belton
Kennedy feared death several days before he was murdered at his country home while in company with the beautiful Madalynne Connor Obenchain, relatives stated today.

The wealthy broker, in connection with whose death Mrs. Obenchain and Arthur Courtney Burch are held,
was uneasy "for a week or so," J.
B. Kennedy, his father stated.

"I pressed him for the reason,"
Kennedy said.

"He told me that he had met Mrs.
Obenchain at the Alexandria hotel and that she had fallen on her knees before him and urged him to marry her."

"Marry me Belton! marry me! I can't live without you!" he quoted her as saying.

"He told me this woman begged him for a gun which she carried,
saying she wanted to kill herself."

"Belton, you marry me or I will kill myself—but I won't hurt you"
he said she told him.

Officials believe Kennedy may have some other warning of danger.

District Attorney Thomas Lee
Woollings completed his preparations Wednesday morning before the grand jury with facts of the case on Thursday. Reports were that Woollings would ask indictment of both Burch and Mrs. Obenchain on the circumstantial evidence which has been gathered.

Letters which passed between Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain showing a cooling of the broker's love for the beautiful divorcee will be presented to the grand jury.

Statements credited to Burch that he came to Los Angeles from the home of his minister father in Evanston, Ill., at the request of Mrs. Obenchain, a sweetheart of college days, will also be presented to the grand jury.

Other evidence to include statements made by Burch that Mrs.
Obenchain visited him in his room at the Russell hotel, across from Kennedy's office, while disguised with a wig. From the room occupied by Burch it would be easy to spy on Kennedy's movements across the street.

Burch showed signs today of the severe ordeal which he has been passing through. He did not sleep last night, according to jail attaches and was reported on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

Lodge Changes Views
The Massachusetts senator was asked whether the senate would have a similar opportunity to express its views on the new treaty while it was being negotiated but this time he is reporting to have said that he supposed there was not a matter of concern for the senate until after the treaty was actually signed and submitted to the senate for ratification. Whether Mr.
Lodge meant to convey the impression that he himself had reversed his previous views on the subject of senate intervention in peace negotiations or whether he meant that the executive branch of the government felt it was not a matter of concern for the senate is the basis of a good deal of speculation at the capital.

Senator Johnson incidentally is not the only member of the senate foreign relations committee who says he is in the dark about the foreign policy of the administration. Others are saying the same thing. Senator Lodge as Republican leader naturally bears the brunt of this discontent.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison, Wis.—The Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league Wednesday scored the efforts of Prohibition Commissioner Stanley Smith to remove saloon bars in the state, in a statement issued to the press.

"Save the mixtures, save the fixtures, are the high spots of the prohibition activity of the present administration to date," said the statement.

"First they make desperate efforts to defend a provision which would not punish the making of any kind of liquor unless for sale and now they are desperately assaulting the bars which never intoxicated any one."

By United Press Leased Wire

expected to determine Wednesday whether an immediate operation on Henry
P. Davison is necessary.

The gravity of the noted financier's condition became known Wednesday when it was announced that a statement would be issued from the office of J. P. Morgan and company, in which he is a partner.

Davison's condition was said to have become noticeably bad shortly after his return from Europe where he was the active head of the American Red Cross.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The administration's railroad relief plan amounts in effect to a loan of $500,000,000 to the roads by the government. Eugene Meyer, chairman of the war finance corporation admitted Wednesday under sharp questioning by members of the senate interstate commerce commission.

Committee members by their questions drew from Meyer a series of statements which summarized amounted to this:
That the government has already loaned the railroads $500,000,000 for which securities have been taken and now proposes to provide $500,000,000 more by the sale of the same securities, that there will be therefore no net liquidation of the railroad's obligations.

Opposition to this course was voiced by Senators Pittman, Nevada, and Smith, South Carolina, Democrats and by LaFollette, Wisconsin, Republican.

Sees Wall Street Hand
In an effort to show that the bill originated in Wall street LaFollette dug into its history.

"I suggested it to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of Commerce Hoover and the president," said Meyer.

"Where you present when President Harding discussed the plan at a conference with bankers?" asked La Follette.

"I wasn't and I don't know that it ever was so discussed," replied Meyer.

"Do you know about Secretary Hoo-ver's trip to New York to discuss it with railway executives?"

"No, I don't know he made such a trip."

La Follette declared the proposed $500,000,000 fund to be given the roads under the administration plan would bring government loans to the railroads in a total of $1,150,000,000.

Meyer disputed this on the ground that the $500,000,000 transaction proposed could be "a substitution" for a similar portion of $650,000,000 already loaned or advanced.

2 KILLED, 2 HURT IN FIGHT WITH BANDITS

By United Press Leased Wire
Memphis, Tenn.—Two policemen shot when citizens fired into a police car at Collierville, Tenn., are reported dying.

Lieut. Vincent Lucarini, at first pronounced dead, was brought here late today when physicians found he still lived. He is now in a dying condition.

Lucarini and three other police were shot when a citizens' posse mistook their car for one in which the bandits who killed two men and seriously wounded two others shortly before noon in a daring attempted payroll robbery at Ford Motor company's plant.

Memphis, Tenn.—Two are dead and two seriously wounded, the result of a gun battle on Union-ave. Wednesday between payroll bandits and four men, who were taking $5,000 from the bank to the Ford Motor company's plant.

The dead are Howard L. Gamble, chief inspector for the Ford Motor company, and Policeman B. A. Canroway.

The wounded are Edward T. McHenry, cashier of the Ford Motor company through the stomach and shoulder.

Harris' condition is critical.

A McHenry saved the $5,000 payroll by dashing into the Ford offices through a rain of pistol bullets.

STATE CONVENTION OF GROCERS HERE NEXT WEEK

APPLETON GROCERS READY FOR OPENING OF STATE MEETING

Program of Business and Entertainment Has Been Arranged by Local Men.

Arrangements for the twenty-first annual convention of Wisconsin Retail Grocers' association to be held here Aug. 15, 16 and 17 were completed at a meeting of the Appleton Grocers' association Tuesday evening. There was a large attendance and each committee reported the work assigned to it had been performed. The Sherman was selected as hotel headquarters and the meeting will be held at Elk club. Plans were made for the entertainment of 300 visitors.

Besides the business program a social program has been arranged. It will begin at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, Aug. 15, with an automobile ride to Kaukauna for visiting ladies. The men will be entertained at a smoker at the Elk club at 9 o'clock Monday evening. Tuesday morning the visitors will be taken through Willy Co.'s mill and through the Mory ice cream plant.

A visit will be made to the plant of the Fox River Paper Co. Tuesday afternoon. Tuesday evening a banquet will be served at the Elk club. This will be followed at 8:30 by dancing. The headquarters of the visiting ladies will be at the woman's club.

The convention will be called to order at 10 a. m. Monday, Aug. 15, by A. J. Herrmann, president of Appleton Retail Grocers' association. Mayor J. A. Hayes will deliver an address of welcome which will be responded to by H. C. Gerhard of Fond du Lac on behalf of the state association. Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, also will deliver an address of welcome, the response to which will be made by W. A. Tomek of Two Rivers.

Charles J. Petri, state president of Milwaukee, then will assume charge of the convention as presiding officer. Appointment of committees on credentials, rules and order, and on registration of delegates and visitors, will be made.

The afternoon session will be started at 1:30, when delegates will file their credentials. Committees on constitution and by-laws, ways and means, legislation, auditing, resolutions and questions will be appointed after which the officers will make their annual reports. Reports will also be made by local secretaries.

Man Coming
J. A. Cunningham, secretary of the Iowa Retailers' association, will deliver an address at the morning session Tuesday, Aug. 16. Reports will be made by various committees and the questions in the question box are to be discussed.

Three addresses will feature the afternoon session of the second day. The speakers will be W. A. Tomek, Two Rivers, "Putting a Store on a Banking Basis"; Charles W. Jackson, DePere, "Cooperative Delivery Reduces the Cost of Business Operation"; Hugh G. Corbett, Appleton, "The Chamber of Commerce and the Merchant." Reports of committees and a discussion of questions in the question box will close the session. A meeting of insurance company directors will be held at 7:30 p. m.

Here are Committees
The committees in charge of the convention are:
Finance—M. J. Gehin, Herman Rademacher, Louis J. Krause, R. E. Carnecross.
Entertainment—Henry Tilmann, Peter Trass, Henry Guckenberg, Herman Rademacher, William Becker.
Social—George Wichmann, William Eshuer, William Bonni.
Reception—R. L. Herrman, I. D. Seegal, M. J. Gehin, Otto Ruhsam.
Ladies—Marie Ziegenhagen, Mrs. Erven Hoffman, Mrs. A. J. Herrmann, Mrs. George Wichmann, Mrs. W. C. Fish, Mrs. M. J. Gehin, Mrs. H. A. Kluge.
Publicity—W. C. Fish, Gus Tesch, Otto Rogge.

The officers of the Appleton Retail Grocers' association are: Arnold J. Herrmann, president; Herman Rademacher, vice president; and R. E. Carnecross, secretary treasurer.

BIRTHS

A daughter was born Aug. 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schroeder, town of Osborn.

A daughter was born Aug. 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sivert, town of Osborn.

C. O. F. Meeting
Nothing of importance was disposed of at the meeting of the Catholic Order of Foresters Wednesday, the larger part of the session being taken up with the auditing of bills and routine work. J. B. Langenberg, who was to have made his report on the international Foresters' convention at Milwaukee, was out of the city and will not report until the next meeting.

Another Operation
William Tesch, who has been at St. Elizabeth hospital for a week, submitted to a third operation Tuesday, and while his condition is critical everything is favorable for his recovery.

Automobiles Are Helping Owners Cut Living Cost

Concrete roads and automobiles have brought about a "farm to table" service here and have made Outagamie county farmers direct competitors of Appleton produce dealers. Hundreds of persons who purchased automobiles solely for pleasure purposes are using them to take advantage of bargains offered by farmers to those who will deliver their own purchases.

Hundreds of orchards within a dozen miles of Appleton were almost stripped by automobile owners who purchased the fruit off the trees at a dollar a bushel. During the sweet corn season thousands of ears of corn were purchased direct from the farmers. Turkey, eggs, vegetables, fruits of all kinds and other farm produce is sold in large quantities to auto owners who drive into their yards almost every evening. Farmers are announcing their bargains with small advertisements in the papers and by tacking signs on posts in front of their homes. They declare they can afford to sell their produce at far below the retail price because they are not forced to lose time from their working hours to make deliveries.

Concrete roads have brought hundreds of Outagamie county farms within a few minutes of Appleton. Almost every evening the roads are lined with automobiles returning from the farms laden with farm produce.

"LIFE PROBLEM" CLUB FORMED BY "Y" ROOMERS

A "Life Problem" club was formed at a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. dormitory men Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. C. L. Boynton, activities secretary of the association, took charge of the meeting. Harry Kearby was elected secretary and treasurer. Meetings will be held every Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. and problems of vital interest will be discussed. The club is open to any young man in the city.

WANT FREIGHT CARS PUT IN USE TO MOVE CROPS

Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been asked to support a movement started by the traffic department of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce to induce railroads to repair their equipment to provide sufficient cars to move the crops. There is said to be a box car shortage and presidents of the Chicago and Northwestern, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Soo roads have been asked to see that the idle rolling stock is overhauled and put into use.

HUMAN FLY FAILS TO CARRY OUT PROMISES

No part of the collections received by the "human fly" and his partner, Aviator McNow, who did stunts here last week has as yet been turned over to the Salvation Army according to a statement made Tuesday by officers of the local branch of the Salvation Army. When the "advance agent" of the group came to Appleton he clearly stated that such was the intention of the men. So far the promise has not been carried out.

RAILROAD YEARBOOK AD SOLICITORS ARE FAKES

Solicitors visiting Wisconsin cities and representing themselves as representatives of the American Railroad Men's association, Milwaukee, are imposters, according to a letter received by the chamber of commerce from the association office. Unauthorized salesmen are said to be selling advertising space in a yearbook, and submit a forged letter of the association giving proper endorsement. No donations of any kind are sought by the railroad body.

WIDTH OF RIVER NO DETERMINATION OF BRIDGE LENGTH

Attorney General's Opinion of Bridge Length of Importance Here.

When is a bridge not a bridge? Is a bridge a passageway over water only or may it span railroad tracks and other objects and still be a "legal" bridge? Will the state aid in constructing a bridge longer than the actual water span?

Fearing that these questions may cause some concern among Appleton people in regard to the proposed new viaduct over the Fox river, City Attorney Theodore Berg clears up the matter by bringing to light the opinion of Attorney General William J. Morgan given to John A. Hazelwood, chairman of the Wisconsin highway commission, April 5, this year.

Mr. Hazelwood faced a bridge problem entirely analogous to the one now before Appleton. A city in the state wanted a bridge over a river within its boundaries. The length of the span over the river would be only 400 feet but if the bridge were built over railroad tracks on each side of the stream it would be 550 feet long. According to section 1821a of the statutes, the state will not aid in constructing a bridge within a city if the structure is less than 475 feet long not including approaches. The question then was whether the highway commission could, for state aid purposes, consider the structure a bridge if more than the actual width of the river were spanned.

The question was vital to the city concerned. If only the span over the river was subject to the provisions of the statute, then no state aid could be expected in building the bridge, as the distance over the river was only 400 feet. But if the law would admit the crossing of railroad tracks, 150 feet would be added to its length and state and county aid could be secured.

The attorney general ruled that the entire span from solid ground to solid ground is the bridge and that the highway commission could be expected to assist in its construction.

Mr. Berg makes clear the legal procedure the city council must take to secure state aid. The initial step is for the council to file a petition with the state highway commission, setting forth the desire to construct a bridge. Within 60 days after the petition is filed, the commission is required to fix the time and place for a public hearing in the city concerned. After

TAKE SAND OUT OF LAKE TO FILL LOTS

Dredge Is Digging Channel in Front of Winnebago Shore Cottages.

A large dredge owned by Martin J. Newman of Oshkosh, has been engaged by some of the owners of cottages near Waverly beach to fill in low places in their property. The work was started last week in front of the cottage owned by Daniel Scharpf, and the sand is piled up about 15 feet high and 20 feet wide in front of the cottage. The big shovel dredges a three foot channel and shovels out 60 yards of sand in one hour.

Dredging has been completed in front of the Sharp, Stowe, Peterson and Strange cottages and the machine is working east toward Lochhyrst beach. The cottagers are eagerly taking the opportunity of having the work done as most of the lots are low and need filling, and it is a long, tedious, expensive process to have sand hauled in by truck.

After the dredging is finished in front of the cottages, the dredge will return to Waverly beach proper where some work will be done. Later it will work for Lutz Bros. ice dealers.

In order to get to the place where the dredge was to start, it had to work its way through the sandbars in its path, forming a new channel for boats and canoes.

Mr. Newman says the waves will gradually wash in sand which will fill up the three foot channel made by the dredge along the shore.

Within ten days after the highway commission has filed its estimates, the city clerk is required to call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the voters the question of bonding to the voters the question of bonding the cost of the bridge with the city clerk.

POOR PROSPECTS FOR MICHIGAN PEACH CROP

The first bulk shipment of California peaches arrived in Appleton and was distributed to local grocers Wednesday morning. Prices range from $1.85 to $2.10 per box. According to forecasts from Michigan fruit dealers, the crop in the neighboring state is the poorest it has been in years. Michigan peaches are said to be stunted and of inferior quality so that California is practically the only source of supply this season.

MAIL ORDER CATALOGS SWAMP POSTOFFICE HERE

Chicago mail order houses are in the midst of their annual distribution of catalogs and Appleton postoffice is handling its share. The office received 60 mails sacks full of catalogs in two days, addressed to people in this county.

Another house swamped the office with a large number last week. The catalogs are shipped by freight to Dubuque, Ia., or Green Bay, and then sent by parcel post. This gives the companies advantage of the lowest zone rates.

Dr. E. H. Melke left for White-water Wednesday on a business trip.

CIRCUS PARADE NOW THING OF THE PAST

Great Combined Circus Drops Pageant to Make Room for New Features.

Because of the increased size of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows, the managing directors have this season been obliged to eliminate the usual street parade.

"It was a case of eliminating this feature or being obliged to reduce the size of the show," said one of the advance agents, "so the parade was dropped, and now we are able to present an even bigger circus than that which toured America last season. Indeed, the elimination of parade equipment has made possible the addition of the largest of Europe's trained animal shows. This immense aggregation occupies sixteen specially designed railway cars. A corps of more than thirty trainers and assistants who accompanied the animals to this country, attend them. Four mammoth steel arenas are each daily carried from the trains and erected in the circus main tent, that the scores of lions, tigers, leopards and jaguars may be presented on the regular circus program. Fifty additional property men are required to handle this one feature.

"That there might be room for the added arenas and yet retain all the rings and stages heretofore used in presenting the human side of the performance, it was necessary to enlarge the main tent. Thus everything is bigger, everything is heavier—harder to handle.

"There can be no time for a street parade. The immensity of the new circus requires every hour of the morning and all the people of the show to get it in place.

"The elimination of the circus street parade has been under consideration since the two great shows were merged in 1918. The business of the combined institution rendered it most difficult to get the show on the parade grounds and still give the street parade as anything like the advertised hour. Indeed there were many days when the parade had to be cancelled entirely. Thus, the sidewalk crowds were disappointed after waiting patiently for hours.

"Now there will be no more such occurrences. There will be no more waiting at the big show entrance for related doors to open. Everything will begin on time.

"What about the small boy who used to follow the cullies? Why he and the grownups will find more free sights on the circus grounds between sun-up and lunch time than any street parade ever offered. We have more than forty elephants, the menagerie is bigger than ever and the scores of trained animals, before mentioned, and which have no connection whatever with the circus zoo, are easily the finest specimens ever seen in America." Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey will exhibit here Wednesday, August 17.

BUYING ACTIVITY IS HOPEFUL SIGN

Archer Wall Douglas Sees Gradual Return to Normal Business Ways.

More active buying by retail dealers in some sections of the country during July indicates a slight improvement in the business situation, according to a statement by Archer Wall Douglas, chairman of the committee on statistics and standards of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in a review of business conditions.

"A study of their orders," he says "reveals they actually are buying goods for their needs instead of having them sold altogether by the traveling salesman. It means the gradual return to usual ways and methods, and slow effacement of fear and apprehension."

Mr. Douglas regards the increase in working forces of some railroads as a hopeful sign. The country apparently is emerging from business depression and entering upon a period when each particular business will be governed more by the natural laws pertaining to it and less by those abnormal forces which turned the world upside down.

"One of the compelling causes of the sustained prices of what is to be found in heavy exports much larger than for a number of years," Mr. Douglas says, "Improvement in market and prices for livestock during July gave substantial benefit and renewed courage to the farming community. Exports of meat products are much below those of war time, but recent increase in demand from abroad for lard and some other hog products materially has helped the situation."

Schlafer Begins Fiftieth Year In Hardware Business

Local Hardware Merchant
Came to Appleton 45 Years Ago Last Monday.

Monday was the forty-fifth anniversary of the arrival of O. P. Schlafer in Appleton and the forty-ninth anniversary of his start in the hardware business. He has been in business for himself 42 years and is the oldest merchant in Appleton in continuous and active service. His early day competitors have either died, retired or have been succeeded by younger men.

Mr. Schlafer came here from Sussex, Wis., in 1876, where he had been clerking in a general store for four years. He was 18 years old and at the time he heard of a vacancy at Brandon he learned that Bailey & Ballard of Appleton were in need of a bookkeeper. He looked over the field at Brandon and then came to Appleton on the same trip and has been here ever since.

Mr. Schlafer was employed as a clerk by Bailey & Ballard for three years and when Mr. Ballard retired in 1879, Mr. Schlafer took his place as a member of the firm and the name was changed to D. B. Bailey Co. The partnership existed for four years. At the end of that period Mr. Schlafer bought the hardware store conducted by A. A. Babcock located in the building occupied by the Bretschneider Furniture Co.

Name Changed
He took William Tesch in partnership with him a few months later and after moving his stock to the present location of the Continental Clothing Co. in 1884, Benjamin Barrett was added to the firm, the company being known as Schlafer, Barrett & Tesch. Mr. Schlafer's competitors at that time were Butler & White, W. E. Kloeppel and Peterson & Koss.

Mr. Tesch retired from the firm in 1895 and Mr. Barrett a year later, James A. Wood succeeding the latter. At that time the name was changed to Schlafer Hardware Co. and has remained so ever since. The company was incorporated in 1904 and since then has materially increased its capital. The building occupied by the company was erected in 1890 and the store and still is one of the hand-somest structures in the state devoted exclusively to hardware. Mr. Wood remained in the company only a year, retiring to engage in the creamery business.

Many Business Changes
Mr. Schlafer says the hardware business has completely changed since he engaged in it and that it is constantly changing. In the early days every hardware store of any pretensions carried sash and doors, but these were dispensed with years ago. For over a quarter of a century the company has carried a special line of paper mill hardware which it sends all over the country and Canada. Originally the company used only 6,000 square feet of floor space, while now it occupies 50,000 square feet.

When Mr. Schlafer came to Appleton the city had a population of 6,000 and the only paper mills were those owned by Richmond Bros., Appleton Paper & Pulp Co. and Bradner, Smith & Co.

AID ASSOCIATION SHOWS BIG GROWTH

Large Surplus Is Returned to Members—State Commends Society.

More than $100,000 has been returned to members of the Aid Association for Lutherans from the surplus fund since 1917. The organization issued 2,808 additional insurance certificates in the first six months of 1921, representing total insurance of $2,492,441.

This was revealed in a report issued by the insurance department of the state of Wisconsin following an audit of the books. The association was commended for its efficient field work under the direction of C. D. Ziegler, president. Its acquisition cost is defined as remarkably low, figuring only $11.42 a member, or $13.50 for each $1,000 worth of insurance in six months to June 30, 1921.

The report says the society is economically managed, with comparatively small overhead expense. The mortality and interest experience was favorable, causing a large surplus to be credited to members and making the net insurance cost low. The total amount returned to policy holders as surplus in four years was $101,129. The amounts were $18,530 in 1917; $21,684 in 1918; $14,645 in 1919; $46,270 in 1920. Affairs of the association were found to be such that the solvency ratio Dec. 31, 1920, was 106.46 per cent, with $106,367 as a margin of safety. Total assets now have reached $1,509,507. The number of policy holders is 19,926, carrying on June 30, insurance totaling $17,268,668. The society is erecting a story office building which will cost approximately $300,000.

THE STAGE

Harvey's Minstrels
Harvey's greater minstrels will make a very attractive street parade introducing several novelties. The wardrobe consisting of purple and burnt orange, Skinner satin coats with hats to match, presents a very flashy effect while the trombone work of Slim Austin furnishes comedy in the street. Not all the company participate in the parade, as such people as the stage mechanics, the octaroon beauty chorus, are busy with the wardrobe and effects.

This company will be at the Appleton Theatre Wednesday August 10.

"Headin' Home."
"Babe" Ruth, the greatest hitter baseball has ever known, scored a home run hit at the Majestic theater when he made his local bow as screen actor in that superbly charming photograph of home life and mother love, "Headin' Home." The sensational star of the diamond worked so realistically and entertainingly that thousands of persons who crowded the theater all day yesterday applauded loudly. The picture is chock full of thrills, laughs and pathos. Ruth is capably assisted by an all-star cast including Ruth Taylor, Frances Victory, William Sheer, James A. Marcus and George Halman.

How I Was Wrecking the Lives of My Children

And Suffering Indescribable Tortures Myself Day and Night. A Mother's Terrible Confession.

For some time I had noticed that my two children, a boy of seven and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient—at times, even whipping, but they kept growing worse. I fought and struggled with the situation. My own nerves were all "on edge"—the least thing put me into a rage. I quarreled and had most awful "fusses" with my husband over nothing as I now look back on them. I was too weak to work or enjoy life, and too nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I was horribly impatient and ugly if I did not get just what I wanted when I wanted it. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I had a constant pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequently a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front part of my head. I often had severe pains across my back, which were due to kidney trouble. I also had tender spots along the spine, which convinced me that a fall I had had several years ago had caused permanent spinal injury which later proved to be only "a case of nerves." I also had tender spots along the spine, which convinced me that a fall I had had several years ago had caused permanent spinal injury which later proved to be only "a case of nerves." Finally I went to a doctor and told him my story; what awful children I had, and asked his advice as to what to do with them, and whether or not I should send them to a reform school. After studying my case and talking with me and my children, to my surprise and disgust he told me I was the cause of my children's condition; that it was all my fault. At this I flew into a rage, but after I had cooled down somewhat, he explained to me the terrible condition of my nerve cells. He told me how the system only manufactured so much nerve force, and that this vital fluid of electricity is stored in the nerve cells, much like electricity is stored in a storage battery, and that I was like an electric automobile after the electricity in the storage batteries had nearly all been used up, and the car could therefore move. ## Mike Has Been With Guards For Quarter Century

This year's annual encampment of the Wisconsin National Guard at Camp Douglas was a big event for Mike Steinhauer, drum major of the One Hundred Twenty-first Artillery band, because he is celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his connection with military service in Appleton. He has been with the band for about four years.

"The band is a big factor in boosting our city," Mr. Steinhauer said, "and that is why I like to be a member of it. We all had to be patriotic and do our duty when the war was on, but those who do it now are boosting because they want to. Our people ought to give the band all possible support. The boys did good work at Camp Douglas and spread the fame of Appleton to about 200 cities.

"I cannot understand," remarked the band major, "why some firms are unwilling to let their men leave their work long enough to go to camp. There were ten men who had to stay at home for that reason and we needed them. Concerns of 40 or 50 men could easily release one employee for that short period. My business ceases entirely when I am in camp, but I am willing to sacrifice something for the good of the band and the city."

How I Was Wrecking the Lives of My Children

And Suffering Indescribable Tortures Myself Day and Night. A Mother's Terrible Confession.

For some time I had noticed that my two children, a boy of seven and a girl of ten, were becoming highly nervous, irritable and very disobedient—at times, even whipping, but they kept growing worse. I fought and struggled with the situation. My own nerves were all "on edge"—the least thing put me into a rage. I quarreled and had most awful "fusses" with my husband over nothing as I now look back on them. I was too weak to work or enjoy life, and too nervous and irritable to go anywhere. I was horribly impatient and ugly if I did not get just what I wanted when I wanted it. I often suffered from severe heart palpitation and indigestion. I had a constant pain in the back of my neck and head, and frequently a very disagreeable sense of fullness in the front part of my head. I often had severe pains across my back, which were due to kidney trouble. I also had tender spots along the spine, which convinced me that a fall I had had several years ago had caused permanent spinal injury which later proved to be only "a case of nerves." ## C. OF C. TAX VIEWS LIKE THOSE OF U. S. BALLOT

Vote of Appleton Chamber of Commerce on repeal of excise taxes and establishment of sales tax on general turnovers as expressed in taxation referendum No. 36 to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States bears out the sentiment expressed in all parts of the country.

Results of the national referendum indicate a popular demand for repeal of the excess profits tax and for taxes on freight and express charges, passenger fares and messages. The vote of all commercial organizations was 1,443 to 290 in favor of repeal. The next largest vote was for repeal of taxes on luxuries and theater tickets.

To carry out this program would leave an immense revenue to be obtained in other ways. Businessmen voted for a general turnover tax instead of taxing only the turnover on goods, wares and merchandise.

In fact, the Cleveland is in a class by itself. It is as finely designed, in every engineering and mechanical detail, as any car of any size or price. And it is built in its own great modern plant, by men long experienced and skilled in the building of fine cars.

The Cleveland provides qualities that are not found in other cars selling for much more. It will meet your every requirement on any kind of roadway, on the boulevard, paved highway or country road, on the straight-way level road or the steepest hill.

The scientific distribution of weight and the long underslung spring construction give to the Cleveland riding comfort on rough roads not excelled by cars weighing twice as much.

Sturdily built, beautifully finished and splendidly upholstered bodies are mounted on the staunch Cleveland chassis.

MUSCLE SHOALS AND FORD

The government was just about to junk the great nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., when Henry Ford came forward with a proposition to take it over on a basis that would save at least part of the huge investment for the taxpayers. Up to the time Ford made his offer it looked very much as though upwards of $85,000,000 which had been spent on the development would be a total loss. No other individual or group had shown the slightest interest in the project.

Shortly after Ford made his offer a mysterious campaign of publicity and lobbying against its acceptance, was started. It now develops that the waterpower, munitions and fertilizer interests are financing this opposition campaign. The news from Washington is that these interests are prepared to go the limit in their efforts to prevent the government and Ford getting together. What they seem to fear is the application of Ford methods to the development of cheap water-power, munitions and fertilizer.

It is getting to be almost axiomatic that anything Mr. Ford favors and jealous interests oppose is for the benefit of the people. It is not only important from a public standpoint that the greatest amount possible be salvaged out of Muscle Shoals. It is even more important that the wonderful productive facilities developed there, fall into hands that will put them to the best possible public use.

Whatever happens to Muscle Shoals, it must not happen that the vast public expenditure already made there be used by unscrupulous interests to stifle competition and perpetuate monopoly. It looks very much as though this may be the meaning of the sudden opposition to the Ford proposal. There is no reason why Ford should get Muscle Shoals for a penny less than it is worth. There is every reason why the water-power, munitions and fertilizer monopolies should not get it at any price, unless the public is absolutely safeguarded against its misuse.

SEEDS OF FUTURE WARS ARE SOWN

Every American who has read "The American Commonwealth", and all Republicans who wish to understand and value representative government should read it, respects the opinion of Viscount James Bryce, former British ambassador to the United States. Bryce elucidated our political system better than any one else, and though a few of his subsequent excursions into history were not so reliable, he is regarded as a leading authority on political forms and changes and racial progress and development.

Bryce, who has followed the mazes of the past in Europe, and studied the rise and fall of kingdoms and republics, told the Institute of Politics, in his address on "International Relations of the Old World States," that the seeds of future wars were sown by the Versailles conference. Statesmen who participated in that conference played down to their electorates, and "popular prejudice, popular passions and cupidities, had to be humored or gratified."

The rivalry between Germany and France is, he said, more bitter than ever. "The victors bear as much resentment against the vanquished as the vanquished do against the victors," and "there is no blacker cloud, pregnant with future storm, hanging over Europe now, than that which darkens the banks of the Rhine." Italy had no historical title to the Germanic territory which it sought to acquire. The situation in Russia calls for a Napoleon; and when Russia does recover, it will attempt to reconquer all of its lost territory, except Poland and Finland. Turkey still is a danger spot of the world.

Bryce bases his fears on events of the past. Abnormal adjustments turned out always to be explosive. The Austro-Hungarian and Balkan combinations of enmity, jealousy, mistrust and dissatisfaction were the firebrands of the world war. Yet, history also discloses preventives of eruptions, the best of all being autonomy. It is only through sympathy, understanding and independence that trouble among the nations will be frustrated. The warnings voiced by Bryce coincide with the lessons of history in all ages and climes. They suggest less reliance on the subtleties, intrigue and deceit of politics and a courageous resort to candor and fairness. The diplomacy of the nations needs less craftiness and selfishness and more justice and honor.

REDUCE GOVERNMENT
EXPENDITURES

The statement of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon that government expenditures so far this year exceed the expenditures of the corresponding period of last year should accentuate to congress the imperative necessity of most drastic economy. The estimated expenditures for this year are $4,550,000,000, and Secretary Mellon maintains that, were more than $250,000,000 lopped off the budget, it still would be necessary to raise $3,570,000,000 by taxation.

Mr. Mellon has been most adroit with the house ways and means committee. He first submitted taxation suggestions which nearly paralyzed the members of the committee with fright. Staggering, they exclaimed that the secretary's scheme would shift the taxation from the favored classes to the mass of voters. Next, the secretary calmly warned the committee that it could not reduce taxes without first bringing down expenditures.

The committee may regard Mr. Mellon's statements as a challenge. It probably will not adopt his suggestions. And, if it has full control of its political poise, it will reduce both expenditures and taxes. The people have been laughing, or may be sneering, at extravagance for years. They have been complaining bitterly against high taxes. The joint ways and means committee has it within its power to give the voters what they want.

MR. HIRST TO STAY

The decision of Chief Engineer A. R. Hirst to remain with the state highway commission for at least another year will be received with gratification throughout Wisconsin. The wonderful progress the state has made in highway improvement has been under Mr. Hirst's engineering direction, which is as capable as any to be found in the country. His services to Wisconsin have been of incalculable value, and he ought to be retained in the place he occupies indefinitely, with a financial inducement that will persuade him to stay.

This state today enjoys an enviable place among all states as possessing exceptionally good roads, and they are getting better all the time. Whereas five or six years ago we were low in the highway list, we are now near the top. The policy which will continue this progressive work should be assiduously cultivated, and nothing will help more in personal initiative than Mr. Hirst's excellent services in the state highway department.

ROMANS DISAPPROVED OF DANCING.

Of all the amusements that we indulge in nowadays, perhaps dancing is the oldest. Dancing seems to be one of man's primitive instincts. The Greeks were, perhaps, the greatest dancers there have ever been. Some of them held that the destiny of nations depended on the rigorous attention given to dancing. The Spartans made dancing necessary as a gymnastic exercise; but the Romans disapproved of it. "No one dances sober unless he chances to be mad," said one of them. And they all considered it was disgraceful for a free citizen to dance, unless it were at a religious festival. The early Christian practiced choral dances, although St. Augustine is said to have objected. He certainly said: "It is better to dig than dance."

ARE EXERCISES GOOD FOR RUPTURE?

Hernia (commonly called breech or rupture) is a protrusion through some weakened place in the abdominal wall of some abdominal structure, such as a portion of bowel or of the fatty apron or omentum which covers the bowels or of some other abdominal organ. The protrusion or bulging is most frequently seen in the groin, less frequently at the navel, still less frequently at other places. Whether the rupture is first noticed soon after birth or many years after birth, generally there is a congenital defect or weakness in the abdominal wall; that is to say, a fault of development by reason of which a protrusion or giving occurs at some point under the effect of these temporary increases of pressure associated with such efforts as crying, coughing, lifting, straining or any vigorous muscular effort.

In a very few instances hernia spontaneously disappears even after several months, in an infant; practically never in an older child or an adult. No known appliance or treatment other than operation, can be reasonably deemed curative, therefore. No one who is not hopelessly disabled from other co-existing cause should go through the inconvenience and menaced hourly by such a curable condition as hernia.

The usual inguinal or groin hernia is a protrusion which follows the path of an inguinal canal through the lower part of the abdominal wall, a path or tunnel which is normally closed at birth, yet patulous—for it is the passageway of important arteries, veins, nerves, lymphatic vessels and ducts. Sometimes the protruding structure enters only the upper end of this canal, the bulging being called incomplete hernia; sometimes it passes through the canal into the scrotal sac to form a complete or scrotal hernia. The ever-present danger in any type of hernia in any situation is that the part protruded may become strangulated—that is, have its circulation choked off by contraction or swelling about the orifice from which it protrudes. That emergency calls for very prompt operation as a life-saving measure. Strangulation may occur in any case at any time.

Since hernia is a congenital defect, due to faulty muscular development of the abdominal wall, at least in part, it is true that a careful preventive value attaches to careful development of the abdominal muscles by exercises adapted to the individual requirements.

In general, one taking such exercises should lie on the back with the shoulders lower than the hips by a few inches, and practice slowly elevating one leg to vertical and lowering it again, a number of times, from three to forty, according to condition and experience; then the other leg, and finally both together, breathing in as the legs are elevated and out as they are lowered. Then practice drawing the body to a sitting posture from the supine, without elevating the heels from the floor. Some such exercise, regularly and faithfully carried out, with no restricting clothing or truss on, twice daily, over many months, will unquestionably prevent the occurrence of hernia in many instances of congenital tendency thereto, but will not cure a frank hernia.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

Wednesday, Aug. 12, 1896.

Eddie S. Baer was convalescing from a severe illness.

Miss Nona McGowan returned from a visit with friends at Rhinelander.

Attorney J. E. McMullen of Chilton was in Appleton on legal business.

The Rev. Father Dorr of the Chicago cathedral was a guest in the family of James McGowan.

A night blooming cereus was in bloom the night previous at the residence of Henry Schneider on North Division-st.

C. G. Morrison, formerly superintendent of the Thimble Paper and Pulp Co., Kaukauna, was to be superintendent of the new mill at Quinnesec Falls.

T. W. Orblson, who departed for the city of Mexico, expected to be engaged there off and on for several months. His business was in connection with the establishment of a new line of electric street cars in that city.

Most Worthy Templar D. B. Bailey, head of the order of the Temple of Honor in America, was at Niles, Mich., in attendance upon the supreme temple in session there.

Miss Myra Louise Parish and Irwin E. Pynn were married at the home of the bride's parents, 704 Union-st.

The annual excursion of the Congregational Sunday school was to take place Thursday, Aug. 20. The steamers Crawford and Eovalyn were chartered for a trip to Calumet harbor.

A hot wave that extended over the middle west for several days was broken the night previous by a severe electric storm.

Wausau had a McKinley bicycle club, which was to be a feature of the presidential state campaign.

M. H. Croswell was at New London on business.

"HALCYON DAYS."

The seven days preceding and the seven days following the winter solstice, which falls on Dec. 21 or 22, were the halcyon days of the old world. In modern dictionary halcyon has come to be a synonym for idyllic, peaceful or happy, but among the ancients it was the name of a bird now called the kingfisher, and the 14 days nearest the winter solstice were called halcyon days because it was at that period that the bird deposited her eggs on the rocks by the margin of the sea, or in a floating nest in the midst of the waters. Out of consideration for the halcyon bird, which was supposed to be favored by the gods, it was expected that the sea would remain calm, that the eggs might not suffer injury. The superstition persisted in spite of the storms that often prevailed at that period, some of the ancient writers attributing to the kingfisher the power of arresting the violence of the waves.

Lobbying Against Tax Bill

By Frederic J. Haskin

Haskin

Washington.—The members of the ways and means committee of the house, struggling with the formation of a new tax bill, are being subjected to pressure from almost every industry in the country, designed to influence the committee to reduce or eliminate taxes which would bear upon this or that business. The most pitiful plea is poured into the ears of the committee, and propaganda work is at the high water mark.

When the committee finishes its work and the bill is before the house for amendment and final approval, the scope of this artificial pressure will be increased to take in the whole house membership. Veterans in congress foresaw all of this, and wearily resigned themselves to it. They know quite accurately just how much of the apparent sentiment against imposing this or that tax is manufactured, and discount it accordingly. Those not members of the ways and means committee, are content to let that body work out the details of the bill, and cast their votes along party lines for or against the measure, without delving too deeply into the intricacies of its many provisions.

But in the present house of representatives there are about a hundred and twenty-five new members, many more than that whose service does not extend back to the formation of the last revenue act or any of the important measures which called into play all the machinery of influence to exert pressure on congress.

Because this sort of thing is new to a big element of the house, it is expected that the lower branch of congress will be more than usually responsive. That an element in congress is prone to permit influencing of its judgment by propaganda and other means was amply demonstrated in some of the important legislation which preceded America's participation in the war.

Just now there are in Washington the representatives of scores, possibly hundreds, of industries and interests whose sole duty is the effort to prevent tax legislation which would affect those industries in what they contend would be an adverse manner. These representatives generally open "bureaus," headed by men well supplied with money and eloquence, who are not niggardly in the expenditure of either.

Last Tax Law an Example
The enactment into law of the Kitchen Tax Bill brought to Washington a tremendous number of these representatives. They all had their innings before the ways and means committee, and later before the finance committee of the senate. Had their pleas been heeded, the Kitchen law would have been a joke instead of the means of providing billions of dollars annually with which to pay America's expenses incident to the war. With the Fordney measure in the formative stage, the same thing is happening again.

It is safe to predict that the efforts of these special representatives will accomplish little, so far as the action of the ways and means committee is concerned. That committee must frame a measure to ease the tax burden as at present imposed, but at the same time raise a great deal of money, which means that a great many people and industries must have their pocket-books lightened somewhat whether they like it or not.

But the task of the persuasive "bureau" does not end with this committee. The members of house generally will become the targets when the measure is before that body. These agents will follow the tax bill on its legislative journey through the Senate Finance committee, in the senate itself, and in the meetings of the conference committee.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. 20540, and enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How can I be sure jelly is done without using a thermometer? A. M. S.

A. Dip a spoon in the boiling juice, raise it above the liquid and let the contents run off the side of the spoon. When jelly is done, the last portions will leave the spoon in a sheet, instead of in drops. When this stage is reached, remove the jelly from the fire at once.

Q. Has the penalty in golf for moving the ball from an unplayable lie been changed? R. E. G.

A. The rules for golf formerly provided that a ball could be moved from an unplayable lie and teed up at a penalty of the loss of two strokes. Under the present rules the penalty is a loss of one stroke and distance, the same as the penalty for a ball out of bounds or a lost ball.

Q. What fertilizer should be used in getting ground ready for cowpeas? S. W.

A. To obtain the best results with cowpeas, the Bureau of Plant Industry advises that poor or unproductive soils be fertilized with about 300 pounds of acid phosphate and 50 pounds of potash to the acre.

Q. How much larger is Australia than the island which is second in size? N. G. M.

A. Australia, containing 2,946,651 square miles is about three and a half times as large as Greenland, the island which is second in size.

Q. How can forgeries of pictures be detected? N. A. M.

A. Photography reveals many differences of brushwork and medium ference committee, composed of both senators and representatives, which will iron out the differences bound to arise in the views of the two bodies. Of course, if there should be written into the measure some item of taxation which should prove extremely unpopular, the members of congress who supported that part of the bill or failed to register a protest against it would find themselves in hot water when next they sought the votes of their constituents. The proposed consumption taxes might fall into this class. The Democratic members of the house are quite willing to see this written into the law, but the wary Republican leaders fought shy of it despite a considerable amount of propaganda put forth in its favor.

Cause of Political Defeats
Belief that manufactured propaganda represented the true state of mind of their constituents can be set down as the reason for the retirement to private life of many former congressmen. Even when the pressure exerted could be recognized as purely manufactured sentiment, the former representatives have insisted to their sorrow in believing otherwise. They took the stand that tremendous interest had been aroused in whatever measure was before the house, and that they must follow the supposed desires of the voters back home in recording their votes.

An outstanding example of this was the McLemore resolution, which sought to put the congress on record as warning Americans not to take passage on armed merchant ships. The Wilson administration focused attention on the resolution, demanding a vote.

Immediately practically every member of the house was flooded with telegrams, all in exactly the same wording, urging that the resolution be supported. Although the names signed to the telegrams were in many cases those of constituents, the more astute congressmen recognized in the sameness of the telegrams and their unprecedented number that the wires did not indicate true sentiment, but false and manufactured opinion.

A notable instance of what resulted may be seen in the fate of the entire Wisconsin delegation then in the house. Alone among its members Irvine Lenroot stood firm against the resolution, and did his best to show his colleagues the true state of affairs. His stand and his advice were disregarded, though, and as a result those men who stood for this surrender of American rights were retired to private life, while Lenroot, at a special election, was sent to the senate, being re-elected for the full term last autumn.

Touching the question of pressure and propaganda aimed at congress, its membership may be divided roughly into two large groups. One takes the position that it has been sent to Washington to represent its voters' views regardless of personal convictions, and that it should be quickly and completely responsive to the trend of opinion at home, to which personal convictions should be subordinated. The other group is made up of those who take the position that they have been elected to represent a portion of the people of the country because those people have faith in the brains and judgment of the men they have chosen. This group insists that whatever situation arises, its convictions as to the proper course to follow should be the sole guide for action.

In support of this position, it is pointed out that the biennial election has for one of its purposes the approval or disapproval of the past public acts of the servants of the people, and that then the sentiment of the people of a congressional district or a state should be registered. This group does not rigidly decline to pass any head to the votes of its constituents, but sticks closely to the principle that no senator or representative should in any case surrender his convictions for the sake of political expediency or because majority sentiment at home appears to be contrary to the course dictated by conscience and conviction.

To the man who does not know us
---- we do not exist

To the buyer who figures that our August prices are like everybody's August prices—this store does not hold much attraction.

But to the man who has been around and knows what is going on elsewhere
—this is the mecca of values in Appleton.

All we ask is a chance to prove that these bargains we are offering now we the kind you have been looking for.

Come today—this week—this month and put it up to us in just this way.

In Ladies' and Misses' Outer Garments in the Fox River Valley

Ladies' and Misses' High Class Coats Prices Reduced Beyond Belief

LOT NO. 1

It is doubtful whether you could find better class coats than this lot in the Valley. Not a single coat in this lot has been marked less than $55.00 and the majority of them are worth $75.00 and $79.50—Veldines, Marvella, Pom Pom, Evora, Silver Tones and Crystal Cords. Every garment handsomely lined with all silk linings, tailored by the finest tailors in the eastern marts.

LOT NO. 2

The price range in this lot extends from $45 up to $65—all full lined with finest silks—materials are Bolivias, Duvet De Laine, Polo, Normandy, Silvertips and Velours, Tricotines and Men's Wear Serges. Beautiful styles for dressy wear that you can use for all purpose coats as well.

LOT NO. 3

Duvet de Laines, Bolivias, Silvertips, Tricotines, etc., in beautiful Wrappy Styles, and a host of other styles that meet the demands of women who know style, and who insist on better class tailoring as well. Garments in this lot have regular prices ranging from $45 down to $22.50 with the greater part of the lot marked about $40.00. Several of the new black velvet jackets in this lot worth $25 now all to go regardless of former prices.

$9.95

LOT NO. 4

All our $19.75, $17.50, $15.00 coats are included in this lot. All shades and a big lot of Velours, Polos, Tweeds and Serges—some are even body lined, all going at

$5.00

A Complete Close-out of Several Lines of Separate Skirts

LOT NO. 1

Baronette Satin, Chuddha Cloths, Velours, Fine Serges all are included in this lot and the regular price range was up to $17.50. Most of these skirts show the new pleated effects with a nice assortment of more conservative styles for women who cannot wear pleats. All colors. Best tailoring.

LOT NO. 2

Here is a small lot of about 15 skirts all in fancy plaid in both pleated and plain models that we think is one of the greatest bargains on the floor. If you ever need a skirt you cannot miss these. Values to $12.50 now to close out at

LOT NO. 3

Here is another lot of close-outs marked at a price that would not pay for the cloth alone. A big range of sizes and dark cloths that will appeal to the more conservative dresser. Some of these are last season's models, but you cannot tell which ones they are because they are so much like the new styles. Values to $10.75

IMPORTANT!

Never in the History of our Ready-to-wear department have we found it necessary to reduce prices so radically. Although this has been a very successful season and we have replenished our stock time after time, we have hundreds of garments that must be sold at once.

ONE-HALF PRICE would probably sell the greater part of this stock but we are not satisfied with that. WE MUST SELL ALL and we have priced many of these garments at much less than Half. Some are marked as low as one third of their regular price. NOT ONE THIRD OFF but ONE THIRD OF THEIR REAL VALUE.

Opportunities like this come very seldom. Look them over!

12,000 Ladies' Embroidered Handkerchiefs on Sale Thursday Morning at 8 for 49 Cents

At the last minute one day last week we luckily found a manufacturer of fine handkerchiefs who had this lot of 1,000 dozen handkerchiefs for immediate delivery and by wiring the order in we were able to get them here for the opening of our sale. These handkerchiefs are said to be slightly imperfect but we have examined them carefully and the imperfections are so very slight as to be unnoticeable, and at this phenomenally low price we expect to clean them out at once.

The corners are embroidered and all are nicely hemmed. In a quality of material that sells regular at 25c, on sale Thursday morning at

6 Spools of Silk 25c

Guaranteed Full Yardage

This fine sewing silk was manufactured by the largest and best known manufacturer of silks in America. The firm recently closed one of their subsidiary mills and the sale of this silk can rightfully be classed as a "Factory Close Out." You will find every color and shade and the mill guarantees full yardage. This thread will be sold in lots of six spools only. No less than 6 spools to a customer, although, for the present we do not feel that we shall limit the sale in quantities—buy all you need—this opportunity does not come often.

STATEMENT TO OUR CUSTOMERS

Under ordinary circumstances, when we advertise an item we make sure that we have large enough quantities so that we do not disappoint late comers, but at this time of the season there are thousands of items in small lots to be closed out, regardless of cost and in some cases the specials advertised on this page will not last throughout the ten days of the sale. Many cannot be expected to last more than the opening days. As lots and assortments become small we shall offer new bargains from day to day and you will find new economies every single day of the sale. Come early Thursday morning and then plan to come just as often as possible—you can make money by attending every day of the sale—watch our advertising.

Men's Wear-Shoes-Rugs-Draperies-Luggage

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEAN-UP SALE

Starts Thursday Morning, August 11 Ends Saturday Night, August 20

Regarding Specials On This Page

Items from the Men's Wear and Shoe Departments speak plainly for themselves—Special attention is directed to the fact that Walkovers and Queen Qualities are included in this sale.

Rugs and Draperies are the departments in which some of the most drastic reductions have been made. Due to the practice of buying rugs in bale lots we find many patterns in which we have but one or two colors, and since we cannot hope to replace these patterns, ALL MUST GO. A careful study of the prices mentioned on this page will give you an inkling of what to expect during this final clearance of fine rugs.

Sager-Klitzke Wedding
Zion Lutheran church was the scene of a pretty church wedding at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when Miss Meta Sager, 322 Spring-st., became the bride of Helmut Klitzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Klitzke, Ellington. She was attired in a gown of white pussy willow satin embroidered with pearls and a veil of tulle caught with pearls, and carried a showy bouquet of opelia roses and sweet peas.
The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Sager, who wore a dress of peach colored organdie with a white picture hat and carried opelia roses, and by Miss Viola Klitzke, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a frock of pale blue organdie with a white picture hat, and also carried opelia roses. Arthur Sager, brother of the bride and Clarence Nussbaum attended the bridegroom.
A wedding reception was held for 180 guests at the home of Mr. Klitzke's parents. The home was decorated with asparagus fern and pink and white flowers. The young people will live at 322 Spring-st.

Miss Kibbie Weds
The wedding of Miss Grace Kibbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Kibbie, 1096 Elsie-st., and George Kobussen, son of Bernard Kobussen of Kaukauna, took place at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the St. Mary parsonage, the Rev. A. Grill performing the ceremony.
The bride wore a dark brown suit with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of American beauty roses. She was attended by Miss Theresa Berlinger who wore a navy blue suit with hat to match and a corsage bouquet of white roses. William Kobussen attended the bridegroom.
A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, which was prettily decorated in pink and green, to about 50 guests. After a wedding trip to Milwaukee and Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Kobussen will live at 1096 Elsie-st.

Entertain at Luncheon
Among those who entertained at luncheons Wednesday noon at River-view Country club were Mrs. J. G. Rosebush of this city and Mrs. H. A. Fisher of Neenah. Mrs. Rosebush entertained in honor of Harriet Lummis Smith and Miss Katherine Lummis of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Laura Lummis Schutz of this city. Miss Katherine Lummis is a professor in a Virginia college.
Mrs. H. A. Fisher and Mrs. John H. Davis both of Neenah entertained at luncheons Thursday noon at the country club.

Wed in Oshkosh
Mrs. Carrie Sessman of Black Creek, and Emil H. Schultz of Neenah, were married at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Lutheran parsonage at Oshkosh by the Rev. C. Mack. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Sussman of Black Creek. They left immediately on a wedding tour to Devil's Lake, Dells of Wisconsin and to Tomah where they will spend a few days with Mr. Schultz's mother.

Prepare Meeting
The executive board of Olive Branch society of Mt. Olive Lutheran church held a meeting preliminary to the regular business meeting which is to be held Friday evening. The business to be transacted at the regular meeting was framed. The meeting will be held on the lawn in front of John Hegner's home corner Second-ave. and Appleton-st.

Surprised on Birthday
Mrs. J. C. Spilker of Canton, Ohio, who is visiting in the city, was given a surprise party Wednesday evening at the H. C. Tennyson home at 902 Sixth-st., in honor of her birthday anniversary. Schaffkopf was played, honors going to Mrs. Albert Koch and Mrs. Theodore Arent. A dainty lunch was served.

Marriage Licenses

BUILDERS IGNORE STRIKE END OFFER

Contractors Refuse to Consider Return to Closed Shop Principle.

Fox River valley contractors ignored the proposal submitted by striking carpenters to return to work on a basis of 75 cents an hour if the contractors will recognize the closed shop when they met here Tuesday evening. The letter from the carpenters was read by the secretary but no action was taken on it. There was no discussion of the letter — it was merely read and then placed on the table.
Contractors declared Wednesday morning that they will continue the open shop. They said that many carpenters in Green Bay, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac are returning to work and they are not having trouble finding men. The open shop principle was declared May 9, about a week after carpenters refused to work for 75 cents an hour, 10 cents less than last year's scale.

Back From Vacation
Enthusiastic and refreshed after a two weeks' stay in the north woods, C. A. Pardee, Sr., returned home Tuesday from the neighborhood of Conover. During his outing he visited several lake resorts both in Wisconsin and Michigan and declares they are ideal places to spend a vacation. He said fishing was very good and many bass and pike are being taken.

Freak Melon
Even watermelons like a change of style occasionally. George Soffa, Appleton-st. fruit dealer, has hauled melons for many years and was surprised to discover one Wednesday that had a yellow center instead of red. The melon was developed fully and had a rich, sweet taste. A customer who purchased the fruit thought it "green," but its taste proved that there merely was a change of color.

Seek Runaway Boy
Aid of Appleton police has been sought by John Simon, South Kaukauna, in locating his son, Argo George, 17, who disappeared from home Tuesday. The boy wore an old brown suit, cap and working shoes. He is small for his age, weighs about 120 pounds, has light hair and is light complexioned.

BAND CONCERT IN FOURTH WARD PARK NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Fourth ward residents will be the first to enjoy a concert by the Artillery band since its return from Camp Douglas. Director Percy Fullinwider announces a concert for 8 o'clock Monday evening at West park.
The concert was promised before the band went to camp, but was postponed because of two military funerals. It will be the first concert south of the river this season.

Women Continually Overdo

This applies to all women, regardless of caste or color. The ambitious girl striving for school honors, the overworked housewife, the shop girl, girls in offices and stores, and the society woman, all climb too high, overtax their strength and what follows? Nervous prostration, sleeplessness, backache, headaches and the inevitable weakness and ailments peculiar to their sex soon develop, which unless checked bring on more serious conditions, and which often lead to operations. An efficient restorative for such ailments is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is now recognized from coast to coast as a standard remedy for woman's ills.

MENASHA-NEENAH NEWS

BUS OWNERS PLAN TO FIGHT NEENAH REGULATING LAWS

Will Seek Injunction to Restrain City From Enforcing Ordinances.

Neenah—An injunction is to be served on Mayor Arneiman and city clerk Harry Semlock of the city of Neenah within the next day or two upon the plea of E. J. Stone of Fond du Lac, proprietor of the Twin-city-Fond du Lac bus lines, and A. C. Homan of Menasha, proprietor of the Twin-city-Appleton bus lines, to restrain the enforcement of the three ordinances regulating motor busses passed by the Neenah city council. The bus owners take the stand that the ordinance to regulate the schedule which provides that the busses shall not load or unload passengers over the same route as the interurban cars at a period of less than ten minutes between the time the interurban cars do, as unconstitutional. They also contend that the ordinance to provide for the place provided in the city for busses to park between Doty and Wisconsin avenues or Commercial street is an unreasonable one. Also that the ordinance providing for a license fee of $100 for each motor vehicle is exorbitant and unreasonable. The bus owners have placed their case in the hands of Attorney Ryan of Appleton.

City Attorney George Kelley and other Neenah officials say that the city is preparing to resist the injunction and to fight the matter out in the courts if necessary.

It is expected that the work of laying concrete pavement on the Plank road, Menasha, between Waverly beach and Manitowoc street will be finished sometime on Wednesday. The pavement was finished to a point west of the railroad tracks on Tuesday and only a short distance remains to be covered. The shoulders have not been completed but it is expected the road will be opened to traffic in about two weeks.

John Dombrowski, Menasha, man charged with transporting moonshine whiskey was found guilty of the charge in Oshkosh municipal court and sentenced to 90 days in the county jail. Dombrowski is a son of Max Dombrowski on whose home a raid was made by officials about a week ago and who is now being held, charged with the manufacture of moonshine.

Word was received in Menasha on Tuesday that "Jack Ryan" the man who robbed the Fitzgerald billiard parlor in Menasha and who was sent to Eau Claire to answer to the charge of murdering the chief of police there is to be sent back to Menasha. The Eau Claire officials have little evidence to aid them in fastening the murder charge on "Ryan" and since he has confessed to the burglary at Menasha he will be brought back there to face that charge.

STOLEN CAR FOUND AT STEVENS POINT

Police in Northern City Recover Machine—Miss Smith Is to Wed.

Menasha—Neenah police have received word from Stevens Point that the Buick car which is owned by Ervin Kresce of Neenah and which was stolen Monday evening from near the circus grounds in Neenah, has been found by the Stevens Point police. A man is said to have been found with the car but it is not known here if he was the one who stole the car.

Carlton Smith of Neenah, has issued invitations for the coming marriage of his sister Miss Sylvia Smith to Donald Carrington Sheppard, which is to take place Saturday afternoon August 27 at the Smith home on Forest-ave.

Mr. and Mrs. William Shinniers and family and Mr. and Mrs. Gill Pearson and family are in Neenah for a few days. They have just come from Indianapolis, Ind., by auto. At Chicago they were joined by Francis Haskey of that city who accompanied them to Neenah. All are to leave on Friday of this week for Minneapolis where they expect to make their home in the future. If they do not settle in Minneapolis they will continue on into Canada.

Adolph Schmaltz of Menasha left Wednesday for a weeks' visit in Chicago. He will make the trip with Mrs. Jarvis and family of Minneapolis who are at present in Menasha.

Alderman Andrew Borens of Menasha, has returned from Chicago.

Al Wyke, who has been residing in Menasha for some time, has left for Kewaunee.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sensenbrenner of Menasha visited at Little Chute Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Nick Schaefer of Appleton visited in Menasha Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, who came to the Twin cities some time ago from Rowley, have left for Cuba City, where they will make their home.

Win Wheeler of the Wheeler Transfer line of Menasha and proprietor of the Valley Inn Motor Car company of Neenah, who was confined for some time in Theda Clark hospital, was about the streets again on Tuesday.

Paul Kelly of Menasha has gone to Ripon on business.

William Slek of Neenah left Wednesday on an auto trip to Milwaukee.

Mrs. Wm. Medford is visiting at the home of her mother in Neenah.

Valuable Cow Dies

One of the valuable purebred Holstein cows in the herd of James Coenen, Spencer-rd. died Tuesday night. The bovine was one of his best milk producers.

GIBBONS MAKING GREAT COMEBACK FOR MIDDLE TITLE

SMITH TREATED TO BOXING LESSON BY 'OLD' PHANTOM MIKE

Old Master Shows All His Old Time Skill and He Works Way to Top.

By Henry L. Farrell
New York.—While Bryan Downey and Panama Joe Gans are conducting newspaper campaigns to get a crack at Johnny Wilson, they are having a march stolen on them.
"Old" Mike Gibbons, instead of telling how good he is and talking much of his rights for a championship fight, is out showing them.
In the last week the "St. Paul phantom" has polished off three opponents, Augie Ratner, Gus Platts and Jeff Smith.
Ratner and Smith are two of the toughest boys in the division. When Mike O'Dowd was champion, his manager used to say to the ambitious; "go out and knock off Ratner and Smith and then come back."
Gibbons beat Smith Tuesday night just like he has beaten all of them since he decided to go back in the fight business and get himself a title. He gave Smith a boxing lesson and contented himself with walloping the countenance of his opponent instead of knocking him out.
Critics who have watched the rather sensational comeback of Gibbons are agreed that he has lost none of the boxing skill that made him the greatest of the ring in his day. He still has all his former science and speed but some believe that age is showing in his punch.
Mike never was a great hitter and he isn't piling up any knockout record now like his big brother, Tommy, is doing.
However, some believe that he is holding himself under wraps and is content to win a decision.

DON'T WANT ATTEL IN GOTHAM BALL PARK

New York.—Abe Attel, alias Joe Weiler, or Joe Weiler, alias Abe Attel, was held in $500 bail for special sessions on Monday by Magistrate George W. Simpson in Washington Heights court. The charge was ticket speculation, but what Abe (or Joe) really tried to do was to get into the Polo grounds on Sunday to see the Yankees play the White Sox.
Detective James Cummings, who arrested Abe, said he saw Abe go to the window, buy a ticket, and after he had been denied admission to the park, go over to another man and resell the ticket. Thereupon Cummings arrested Abe and charged him with violating the penal code which relates to ticket speculation.
"Arant you also known 'as Abe Attel'?" the court asked.
Abe said he was.
"Haven't you been a prize fighter?" Abe admitted he had been such.
"Why couldn't you get into the Polo grounds?"
Abe said it was because he had "an argument there about a year ago."
As a matter of fact, Abe was told some time ago that the games in which the Yanks participated would run along much more smoothly if he restrained himself from attending. Abe was indicted in connection with the baseball scandal, but he insisted that the man the Chicago authorities wanted was another Abe. The courts decided he did not have to go to Illinois to testify, so he remained here.

STRIBLEY IS HIGH MAN IN SHOOTING TOURNAMENT

C. W. Stribley, Kaukauna, finished with the highest score in the weekly tournament of the Appleton Angling and Shooting club Sunday. He broke 45 out of 50 targets in two events. William Palatich, Appleton, was second with 42 out of 50, and Robert Wertheimer, Kaukauna, third with 41 out of 50.
In the second event Mr. Stribley and S. H. Clinedinst, Menasha, had almost a perfect score, each breaking 23 out of 25 targets.
The scores were:
Total.
L. A. Schlise, Sturgeon Bay ..... 32
C. W. Stribley, Kaukauna ..... 45
S. H. Clinedinst, Menasha ..... 38
Karl Stansbury, Appleton ..... 31
William Palatich, Appleton ..... 42
R. W. Getschow, Appleton ..... 20
H. C. Getschow, Appleton ..... 23
Karl Mory, Appleton ..... 37
Dr. Chas. Reineck, Appleton ..... 47
Robt. Wertheimer, Kaukauna ..... 41
G. L. Chamberlin, Appleton ..... 16

Send Invitations.
More than 500 letters of invitation were sent to Wisconsin retailers by the chamber of commerce urging attendance at the state convention of the Wisconsin Retail Grocers association here next week. Response already indicates that the invitation is helping to swell the attendance.

The Red Sox beat the Tigers, 4 to 1 and 8 to 7, and made it ten victories in a row.

After Bill Donovan has been officially canned, the Phils went out and lost to the Reds, 7 to 4. Monroe's errors let in three runs.

Seeks Gun Championship

Frank Troeh, seven-time champion of Washington but who never won the Grand American handicap tournament.
Chicago.—It costs more to stage the Grand American trapshooting event of the country, than it does to stage a world series.
The shoot will be held here August 26.
Last year, at Cleveland, $1,551,200 was spent for shells alone. The clay targets that were shot at cost close to half a million.
A veritable arsenal of guns are used. Figuring every shooter has one gun valued at $100 and with 800 cartridges the total value of firearms on the shooting lot would be $80,000.
Most of the shooters are as fussy about their guns as golf players are about their clubs so they carry a rackful of them. It is estimated that the value of shotguns brought to Cleveland last August by shooters was close to $300,000.
Sky Background
Shooting on a lake with a sky background makes for high scores unless there is a gale blowing.
Last year it is estimated that 10 1/2 tons of shot were spilled in Lake Erie at Cleveland during the big shoot.
As much or more will be sprinkled into Lake Michigan this year.
Word comes from Vancouver, Wash., that Frank M. Troeh, seven-time winner of the trapshooting title of Washington, is oiling up his guns preparatory to another try to win the Grand American here.
Although his gray-blue eyes are recognized as being among the keenest in the world for clay bird shooting, he has never won the Grand American.
"I'm going to overcome my jinx this year," says Troeh.
All handicap events are a matter of chance.
No one has ever been able to pick a winner. And no one ever has won the event twice since it was inaugurated 21 years ago.
Albert Ivins of Red Bank, N. J., won it last year in Cleveland with a score of 99 out of 100 targets, shooting from the 10-yard line.
Perfect Score
Only one perfect score has ever been turned in.
Riley Thompson, a Gainesville, Mo. farmer, did it in 1910 at Chicago.
He came to the tourney undecided whether to look on or to shoot. He entered at the last minute.
The Grand American is open to state champions or the runners up in case the champs can't attend.
The winner is regarded as the best trapshooter in the world.

Watching The Scoreboard

Yesterday's hero: Babe Adams made a season's record by winning his ninth straight game in pitching the Pirates to a 4 to 2 win over the Robins.
Walker and Welch beat the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 3. Walker hit a homer and Welch hit a single, double and triple and knocked in the winning run.
Meusel hit a homer with the bases clogged but Mays wobbled in two innings and the Yanks lost to the White Sox, 5 to 4.
Frisch, Burns and Snyder hit homers but the Cubs liked the pitching of Toney and Douglas so well that they trimmed the Giants, 5 to 7.
Southworth tripled with the bases full in the seventh and in the ninth inning cut off the tying run at the plate, the Braves beating the Cards, 4 to 3.
The Browns scored two runs in the nineteenth inning and won the longest game of the season from Washington, 8 to 6. The game was won by Sisler's single, a pass to Williams. Jacobson's single, an intentional pass to Severid and Gerber's infield out.

JOHNSON BARRED FROM BOXING IN NEW JERSEY

Atlantic City, N. J.—Jack Johnson was all ready to step into an open air ring here Monday afternoon and spar a three round exhibition with Willie Jackson, the New York white lightweight, when a telegram notified the promoters that the New Jersey boxing commission will not permit Johnson to put on a glove anywhere in the state.
Johnson went through a course of calisthenics for a large crowd of negroes who had turned out to welcome him to the city and parade with him. The parade was led by a negro band and a platoon of negroes belonging to the local police force.
Johnson said he expected to fight Bill Brennan of Chicago in the fall, either in Pittsburgh or in Philadelphia. To date, however, the bars are still up against Johnson in Philadelphia.

SHEBOYGAN CALLS OFF BASEBALL GAME WITH BRANDT TEAM

Chair City Takes on Illinois Giants Because They Cost Less Money.

Just as fans in two Wisconsin semi-pro leagues were getting set to watch the battle in Sheboygan Wednesday afternoon between the Brandts and the Chair City crew word was received here by Owner August Brandt that the game had been called off. The Sheboygan management had made arrangements to play with the Illinois Giants because they could be secured at less cost.
The postponement was a severe disappointment to fans here who saw an opportunity to compare the calibre of baseball in the two circuits. Now it is probable they will have to wait until after the regular league season closes.
It is quite probable that the pennant winner in this circuit will meet the champion of the shore league in a postseason series to determine the state championship. It has also been suggested that the winner of that series play the Milwaukee Brewers to definitely determine how good the semi-pro fellows are.

HINT BADGER COMPANY IS GUILTY OF FRAUD

Milwaukee.—A Wisconsin corporation, capitalized for $650,000 is under investigation by District Attorney W. A. Zabed. A warrant has been issued for the organizer of the concern which is said to have purchased the ruins of the Sheboygan tannery by assuming a mortgage of $12,500.
According to officials, the organizer has sold $60,000 worth of common stock and $14,000 in preferred stock. Stockholders were assured, it is alleged, that a great rubber goods manufacturing concern was to be launched. The warrant charges obtaining money under false pretenses.

"EVEN MY FRIENDS DON'T KNOW ME"

"My friends hardly recognize me," said J. W. Hensel, a well known former living at R. R. 2, Stevens Point, Wis. Saturday. "I'm a changed man. Before Kozak restored me to perfect health, I was a nervous wreck. I would shake all over, couldn't sleep at night and was too weak to work.
"Following the 'flu, I suffered a nervous breakdown. I lost my appetite, and such foods as pie or cake caused me much distress. Now I can eat heartily of everything, sleep good and feel strong and vigorous. I never realized that it was possible for a medicine to do for a person what Kozak did for me." Kozak sold exclusively by Schlitz Bros., Hortonville, Gitter, New London, Spearbrecker, adv.

Looks Like Doug

Douglas Fairbanks (Top) and his double, Lewis H. Doyle.
Lincoln, Neb.—Lewis R. "Lum" Doyle is the new boxing commissioner of Nebraska. But most folks think he's Doug Fairbanks.
"Lum" and "Doug" not only look alike but act and smile alike.
"Lum" won recognition on the gridiron at the University of Nebraska as a star and a grinner of broad, good-natured grins.
When other players were gritting their teeth he smiled his way to victory.
Then he took up boxing. In the gym he continued to double for "Doug" by performing difficult athletic stunts, always accompanied by his "Fairbanks" smile.
While "Lum" is a great admirer of "Doug" he doesn't want any of "Doug's" screen laurels.
He's a lawyer by trade. Boxing and athletic interests are his hobbies.

GOLFERS PREPARE FOR DISTRICT MEET

Play for Stevens Cup and Club Championship Is to Start Soon.

Golfers of Riverview Country club are preparing for the tournament of the Eastern Wisconsin Golf association, which opens in Green Bay Thursday and continues through Saturday. There will be a large delegation of local welders. Events in class A, B and C are scheduled.
First qualifying rounds of the Riverview club for the Stevens cup will be played on the local greens Saturday, Aug. 20. This will be regular 18-hole match play.
First rounds for the club championship were scheduled to start Aug. 20, but instead the scores made on this date in the Stevens cup match will be considered scores of the first championship match. Players have been notified by John Stevens, president, to keep a record of these scores so there will be no question about the standings in the contest. Members also are instructed to keep the lowest five scores and dates on their handicap cards.
Class A players in the Stevens match will be those having handicap of 12 and under; class B, handicap 13 to 13 inclusive; class C, handicap 14 and over. The winner of each class will have his name engraved on a shield supplied by the club, and displayed in the clubhouse. Winners in each class are to receive medals.
Next rounds for the trophy and championship must be played Sept. 10 and Sept. 24. The lowest aggregate score for three days wins the Stevens cup.

BABE STILL CAN SET NEW HOME RUN MARK

Bambino's Home Runs Have Been Responsible for 68 Yankee Scores.

Home runs don't always win ball games.
In the 36 games out of which Babe Ruth coined his 39 up to Aug. 7, the Bambino only clinched 16 with his base hit. This is giving him credit also for keeping the games from resulting in tie score.
His home runs in 16 of these 36 games were complimentary. The Yanks would have won without them.
And in 10 games in which Bambino connected New York was on the losing end of the score.
His homers have scored 29 men ahead of him. Counting his own tally he has given the Yankees a total of 68 runs by his circuit slugging.
Pace Maker
But one of the big features of his long-distance hitting which doesn't show in the figures is the results gained by his pace-making.
His slugging has been an example to his teammates in every game.
All the Yanks swing from the handle most of the time.
He has made two home runs in three games each in piling up his 39.
Ten of his clouts have been registered off Detroit pitchers—the greatest number he has made off of any one club.
This is due to the fact that Ty Cobb has advised his slayers to pitch to Babe all the time and that he have pitched in his home run groove.
The Yankees have over 50 games yet to play.
Barring accidents, that gives Behemoth 175 or more times at bat, figuring he will average more than three times up per game.
He has the percentage in his favor for bettering his 1920 mark of 54 circuit smashes.
August Slump
Recently he has been in a slump. From July 18 to Aug. 7 he has hit but three of his famous drives.
When he crashed out his 39th on Aug. 6 he was one day behind his 1920 schedule.
Last year he slowed up in August. His 1920 slump came from Aug. 6 to Sept. 4.
Up to Aug. 7 the Yankees had made 82 homers. They'll have to hit 34 more to set a new team record.
Those who bet the King of Sock would hang up a new one still have an excellent chance to collect.

Life is just bringing one record after another for Miss Ethelda Bleibrey.
The New York water star broke two of her own records at Brighton Beach.

Sport Views And News

The order of can has been tied to Bill Donovan, manager of the Phils by Owner Baker who got a bit peeved at some of the remarks made by "Wild Bill" in regards to the policy of the Philadelphia club magnates. Although Donovan has been fired so far as handling the team is concerned, he will be paid off every two weeks until his contract runs out at the end of the season. Evidently, there are some advantages to baseball as a profession after all.
An umpire's life in the Western league is just one pop bottle after another and what's more they pinch them for attempting to batter up a bottle heaver. Ducky Holmes and Bill Guthrie recently worked a game in Tulsa, Okla., and the fans began throwing glass. Holmes spotted one of 'em and, after the game the Umps got after him, ala Demsey. They were haled into court and fined $50 and costs apiece for assault and battery. Evidently there is no such thing as self defense in Oklahoma.
The high cost of sporting from an athletic point of view is bound to drop a bit ere long. The federal tax on

Psychology In Hitting

The lively ball talk has suddenly died out. Now the tale is going the rounds that the magnates have slipped the dead ball back into the kit bag.
Connie Mack believes the same ball is in play now that was used earlier in the year as well as in previous years.
Connie attributes the long-base knocks to the fact that batters took new confidence after "doctored" balls were abolished and started swinging. Then up until July pitchers were off stride.
The tall pilot of the A's has the right dope. Psychology has more to do with baseball than players know about.
Solved
Capt. Chas. J. Dieges, a timepiece maker and jeweler in New York, has invented a clock that would prevent sympathetic referees from making long counts over fallen fighters.
The boxing clock keeps time for the rounds, the intermissions between rounds and counts when a fighter has been floored by pressing a starting button.
One of these devices would save arguments such as recently came out of the Bryan Downey-Johnny Wilson match.
And the Downey-Wilson affair is only one of dozens of other fights where men have been saved from knockouts by long-counting referees.
Commonplace

Harmony
Bill Kullifer faces a big job as the new Cub leader.
Chicago expects him to lead the machine to the first division.
Every man on the team likes Kullifer. He won't have to make them hustle. They'll do it of their own accord.
It wouldn't be surprising to see him boost them up there. Harmony means a lot to a ball club.
Unfair
An age limit for fighters, such as has been set by New York, is wrong. In sport a man is okay as long as he delivers the goods in his line.
New York's purpose, no doubt, was to put up the bars to Jack Johnson. The age limit set was 35. The negro has passed that mark. So has Jess Willard.
The fair method would be to bar fighters who are not in condition. That's where the shoe pinches.

Languages
While tennis played the same in all the dozen countries who originally started in the Davis Cup trials, they don't talk about it in the same tongue.
With the foreign players on the ground, it requires a linguist to interpret communications between different teams.
More argument for an international language.
athletic equipment has been slashed in half by the revenue fixers in Washington. When the new law takes effect, there will be a government levy of 5 per cent, instead of double the amount which has been the rule since Uncle Sam stepped into the war.

to be skiddin' rapidly. When the team is winning, Milwaukee is a great ball town but when things go wrong, it doesn't take the hammerites much time to swing into action with their mallets. Considering his aggregation of misfits, Egan has done wonders keeping his team so far up in the association race.

GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR U. S. IN CHINA

Chautauqua Speaker Delivers Interesting Address at Kaukauna.

Kaukauna—A pleasing program of musical and vocal selections and humorous readings was presented on the second day of the Chautauqua by the Poppe-Elliott Co. Winifred S. Nicolas lectured on "America's Opportunity in China," showing how the United States was helping modernize that country. Martha S. Trimble had been scheduled to speak in the evening on "West and Commonwealth" but it was announced that she became ill a few nights ago and was forced to take a rest.

Mrs. Nicolas' lecture opened with a description of a Chinese wedding. She showed how much community work still remained to be done in China before it can be classed as a civilized country.

The light of Christianity has not yet lighted up the whole of the country, the lecturer said. Their weddings as well as other festivities are filled with heathenish practices. Mrs. Nicolas said the time is coming fast when the Chinese people would break away from such things and it is to help them accomplish their purpose that gives America her opportunity.

The speaker gave illustrations of how numerous cities have been changed from dirty places to cities of beauty and industry. Streets have been widened and lighted with electricity, window shades have been put into the houses, doors laid and partitions built in.

Every year, the speaker concluded, saw numberless Chinamen attending schools in other countries at the expense of the government so the country would be benefited by their knowledge.

Moose Outing

The Kaukauna Loyal Order of Moose held an outing Sunday afternoon at Kaukauna Gun Club grounds. Baseball and other forms of amusement kept the men busy until dark. About 125 Moose were present.
